The Grom ammunition boots are the perfect parade footwear for a man who works as a soldier, or at least represents the uniformed services. Forget about annoying scuffs or troublesome corns. The Protektor military boots are covered on the outside with hard-wearing and abrasion-resistant grain leather. In addition, delicate velour leather has been used on the inside so that you can take care of your health and comfort for many hours while wearing the GROM boots from Protektor. Your feet will finally be able to breathe and you will see that the right footwear will give you comfort and satisfaction at work.
